

Programme

General format of the workshop:

As the name implies, the SCORE17 workshop is intended to be just that – a workshop. Thus, most of the week will be dedicated to work in several smaller ground, which we plan to form on the first day based on topic. Which topics to be addressed will be on the agenda during the first session of the workshop, but some suggestions are already given on the front page.

Each morning Monday-Thursday we have allocated 3 hours for up to three 30-45 min. presentations to be given on a voluntary basis by the participants. The topic can be anything the author deems relevant for the topic of the workshop:

“ Granulation on solar-like stars”.

We strongly encourage the presentations to include open questions and highlight unresolved problems as a foundation for discussion and work in the different groups.

The rest of the time during Monday-Thursday will be left free for the participants to work together on the different topics.

We envision that Friday will be used to have a plenum discussion on the results of each of the groups. It is our hope that the group work will encourage further collaboration beyond the workshop.

After the workshop, the presentations can be uploaded to ScienceMedia (thanks to Markus Roth).
